My husband and I participated in divorce mediation with Josh. My experience in mediation was much better than I had anticipated. Josh made us feel comfortable, and he created a calm atmosphere and space for us to talk. We disagreed on lots of topics but Josh never gave up on us. Although some mediation sessions were heated and difficult, we ended up reaching a full agreement. I am glad that Josh was our mediator, and I highly recommend hiring him!

I attended the court-ordered/mandated divorce parenting program at MWI back in late January of this year. I just wanted to share how happy I am that my co-parent is now attending the class as well (October 2018). Since I thoroughly enjoyed the class and got a lot out of it, I was hoping my co-parent would attend, so we would receive the SAME content. I explained to him that MWI's program was VERY good, not boring and that he should consider signing up...Well, he did!!! Thank goodness. I highly recommend the mediation services and the Better Parent program at MWI.

I came to MWI because I was looking for an affordable way to get divorced. Josh was a great mediator and in the end his costs were less than what I expected. What I liked most about Josh was that he always remained neutral. He also made the process simple and efficient. I would definitely recommend hiring him as a mediator. I am glad Josh was available to help us get through the tough process of divorce.

Josh Hoch of MWI was an absolute pleasure to work with. He was very responsive to our emails and guided us through all the paperwork and steps for a speedy resolution and divorce. He was able to accommodate one of us being in a different city and is an expert in knowing what the court would want to see for each document. Both the judge and courthouse clerk commented that the separation agreement was well written and one of the best they had seen. The rates are very reasonable, affordable, and definitely better than what one would pay going through separate lawyers. In summary, I highly recommend Josh for divorce mediation services.

I've known a lot of people from my 25 years of running my own business. I will always recommend MWI's divorce mediation service to others.

Mediator Josh Hoch and the MWI mediation team eased this difficult time of transition in my life. The process was explained simply and free of problems from consultation up until the time for filing at the court. I even forgot a key component of the file inside the MWI offices as we had already made our way to the courthouse. Josh and the staff met us more than halfway, as they were kind enough to run the file downstairs and up the block to hand deliver the missing documentation. In the future, if other contacts are in need of services, I will definitely forward them to MWI offices.

When my divorce began, I retained a high-end Boston attorney firm and over the course of a year I paid them more than $100,000 in legal fees and wasn't getting anywhere. My wife's attorney was determined to go to trial which would have dragged the case out another year and cost at least another $100,000. The only people who were going to "win" in my divorce were the attorneys. I was mentally exhausted and tired of writing huge checks so I approached Josh at MWI. He met with myself and my wife separately and he was able to build a rapport and trust with both of us individually. Our situation was about as bitter as any divorce could be, but he was able to navigate through the hostile environment and focus on what really needed to be done to settle the case. My wife was highly irrational and volatile during the divorce and it seemed as though nobody could reason with her. Josh was able to build a rapport with her and maintain even posture, persistence and patience required to get her to the table.

After several negotiations fell apart, we eventually signed a settlement agreement which made both of us feel as if we had "won". Along the way, Josh was also able to provide numerous referrals to various experts, all of whom turned out to be excellent resources. I cannot say enough good things about MWI and Josh. The cost was minimal compared to litigious attorneys, and I wish we had started with mediation rather than ending there.

My husband and I came to an understanding that it was in our best interest to part ways. This was a difficult and gut-wrenching decision for both of us. I (the wife) originally sought legal representation which was not comfortable for me, and especially not comfortable for him, never mind how expensive it was going to be. We wanted to have this experience be as non-confrontational and amicable as possible. We had an initial meeting with Josh, who was just wonderful. He has a very calm demeanor, is knowledgeable, and projects a caring atmosphere of support, but neutrality.

The negotiations were so much easier to do for both of us with Josh. We had two intense meetings and found Josh to be very responsive and he created an environment of ease, never mind the financial aspect which was a fraction of what legal litigation would be.

I highly recommend MWI and especially Josh as the mediator. I feel mediation in general is such an amazing alternative to legal litigation. Divorce can be such a volatile and unsettling experience, but I have to say, Josh made what could have been an uncomfortable and confrontational experience feel far more like a collaborative and supportive experience.

I am so grateful to have worked with Josh's team during a time that was both difficult and confusing. Josh and his colleagues have always made themselves available to meet with me and advise me on various matters concerning my divorce and post-divorce needs. Josh is always very responsive and attentive, and when he is unable to assist, Josh has taken the time to refer me to an excellent network of professionals. I would refer this team to all my friends and family.

My ex-husband and I had an extremely high conflict divorce with a lot of moving pieces. We were with attorneys for over a year. The attorneys turned what should have been a simple process of asset division, parenting time and some extra pieces into a 6 figure battle that got us nowhere.

In comes Josh. He stuck it out through a lot of tension and found middle ground for us in a matter of weeks. He persevered when I lost faith and ultimately solved our conflicts, helped us each achieve closure and begin our new separate lives in peace. I highly recommend mediation with Josh Hoch at MWI.

After almost thirteen years of marriage, my husband and I made the difficult decision to divorce. He suggested that we pursue mediation and set up an appointment with Josh Hoch at MWI. From the first time I met Josh I was impressed with his professionalism, patience, and impartiality. We met several times while developing a comprehensive separation agreement that satisfied us both. I had dreaded the process, but Josh helped us remain focused and future-oriented. Three years have passed and we have reached out to Josh to review our case and make adjustments as needed to accommodate our ever-changing lives. He is always prompt in responding to calls and emails and is available at convenient appointment times. I would recommend him highly to anyone who is in need of mediation services.

I am extremely grateful to Josh Hoch for making this difficult time as painless and navigable as possible. He was clear and informative, always ensuring that we both understood the short and long-term considerations of the decisions we faced. Josh was patient and accommodating. He was always responsive, quick to answer the odd questions as they came up, and was pleasant to work with. He helped us draft an agreement that was not only fair but fostered the cooperative spirit that we want to continue going forward for our children's benefit. Josh prepared us well for each step in the process, and I would recommend his services to anyone looking for a knowledgeable and truly caring professional to guide them through the intricacies of the divorce process.

MWI and Josh Hoch was the best option for us because we were looking to avoid a costly divorce process. We were looking to keep our hard-earned money available for the family, not costly lawyers. Josh made us feel very comfortable working through every step and some unique circumstances. Josh accommodated our busy schedules and walked us through every step of this emotional process. He coached us well for the court hearing. On our court date our paperwork was in order; we noticed others were not (others with expensive lawyers present). What could have been a difficult process was very easy.

We had been working with attorneys for about a year and going nowhere, just spending money. We had decided to try mediation and Josh was recommended through a friend. It was the smartest thing we did. Two sessions and we got our stuff settled and were moving on. I would strongly recommend giving mediation a try with Josh. He was very professional and fair. He provides you with all the paperwork you need and prepares you for court. Most importantly, he saves you money.

My ex-husband and I are grateful for MWI helping us navigate a very difficult time in our lives. We both wanted to avoid the extreme costs of court and a lengthy process. We first contacted an attorney and asked if they would be able to mediate. While the attorney told us they could accommodate, it became clear during our first meeting this wasn't the case. This was especially disappointing, as any divorce is a very delicate.

This is when my ex and I searched for a different option and found Josh. Josh was flexible and accommodated our schedules by meeting in the evening, as we both work full time. He met with us together and then separately to ensure we felt our needs had been met and to ensure we felt the proposed agreement was fair.

My ex husband and I still stand with the agreement Josh helped with. We're co-parenting successfully and most importantly our children were impacted as little as possible.

At a very difficult time for my family I reached out to Josh. He offered council and services that helped repair a dire situation. Transitioning my family into mediation was very delicate, and he eased us into the process. Although there was no one session, event, or discussion that resolved our situation, Josh and MWI played a crucial role in getting us where we are today. Better days are ahead, and I will be forever grateful. Thank you to Josh and MWI.

Josh did a terrific job of guiding us through a challenging time. He gave us an overview of the process and walked us through the steps in a professional and low-pressure approach. He is very knowledgeable of the entire divorce process and what to expect with the courts. We chose MWI based on reviews we found, and Josh completely lived up to our expectations. I would highly recommend him to any couple looking for a fair and non-confrontational divorce.

Things couldn't have gone any smoother. In court, we especially noticed other couples having issues with their paperwork, and we had no problems. We recommended you to our brother-in-law and they just began mediation meetings. Thank you very much.

Josh is very professional and has been extremely helpful during this difficult time, providing relevant advice all along. Josh Hoch from MWI was a great help as we navigated the mediation process. There is nothing easy or pleasant about mediating a divorce, so it is critical to have a clearly neutral yet supportive individual leading you through it. Josh is that kind of person. Our goal was to avoid contentious litigation, yet to both come out feeling we had done our best to agree on a fair settlement. Mediation can be the path to this, and having the right person leading the process, such as Josh, is essential. I highly recommend Josh and his organization.

Josh has been very helpful during the process of completing the court required paperwork. We didn't even know where to begin. He walked through all of the paperwork, explaining each piece of paperwork and answering all our questions, in turn saving both time and money. MWI has made going through this complicated time easier.

Josh helped me with my divorce. He is very knowledgeable about divorce in Massachusetts and saved us lots of time and money. He is a skilled mediator, although our situation was not that difficult. We have since filed for divorce and everything went smooth. I highly recommend Josh and his firm, MWI.

My ex and I are very grateful for Nnena Odim's support and guidance throughout the separation agreement process; we felt very comfortable, and knew just what to expect from our hearing and from the Judge. I also greatly appreciated that Nnena was able to offer her services to us as a Notary Public, and even took the time to answer a few last-minute questions as they came up (after the separation agreement was completed). Of additional note is their efficiency and promptness--I enjoyed working with Josh Hoch. He was always very quick to answer/return our phone calls, and was very personable and clear in his communication. Also, I can't begin to express how grateful I was for MWI's adjustable rate (based on our income). If anyone has the unfortunate need to seek similar mediation services, without question I know that I would recommend Nnena/Josh/MWI to them.

MWI provided very rapid response after we contacted them and then they initiated the mediation only a few days after we spoke to them. We had a French speaking requirement and MWI provided us with a mediator who could speak excellent French. The mediation took a few weeks, but I felt that the mediator was on top of the case and helped finalize a mutually beneficial Memorandum of Understanding. After the mediation was completed, Josh H, from MWI was a great resource of help to put the divorce file together and make sure that filing went smoothly.

I am strongly recommending MWI in a divorce mediation process. It did take several hours of negotiation, but at the end of the day, it is 10 times cheaper than involving lawyers and having both parties fight.
